

Con Corazón Outreach Report

17th May 2024 – Marampaqui

Michaela Graf is a school teacher from Ulm, Germany and she teaches Health Sciences. She is enjoying her sabbatical year traveling throughout the world. This time, she has been in Cusco for several weeks, looking for a volunteer opportunity. She contacted us via e-mail asking for a position at Con Corazón. She mentioned her interest in the health promotion area, so that grabbed our attention immediately and accepted her as a volunteer.

She was able to go to the different schools we intervene and also Marampaqui doing what she most like, teaching children and adults about the importance of health in our daily lives. Her Spanish skills level was good enough to communicate the importance of washing hands, hygiene, nutrition, brushing teeth, thus preventing some diseases through information.

Her support was key as the locals receive the information with lots of interest. The children will miss her and the passion she shows within each activity.

We delivered 15 SMS and 12 of them were installed and functioning already. The rest, we gave them a deadline to install it.
